

Institutional

At present, there is no government agricultural college/district level training centre of department of Agriculture where students can have agriculture diploma or certificate courses.

Funds given to state agriculture department and other agencies are meager for sufficient farmer trainings.

Such institutes can help in dissemination of latest agriculture techniques to farmers of the area for better crop yields.